

In Pursuit of Excellence

Cheung Chuk Shan College is an aided and co-educational EMI grammar secondary school with its premises furnished with modern facilities and equipment. The School Hall, all classrooms and special rooms (except the Home Economics Room) are air-conditioned. We also have a multimedia learning centre, a Campus TV Studio, a library, an assembly hall, an outdoor playground and a gymnasium. An automatic weather station was installed to gather weather data and the shared data among different locations in Hong Kong can be used in field studies of students. A wireless local area network has been set up to cover the whole school premises while all classrooms and special rooms are equipped with a computer and projector system. LCD televisions have also been installed in classrooms. Since the enforcement of the 9-year universal basic education, our SI classes, being admitted through the Secondary School Places Allocation System, have been filled with high-calibre students enjoying a good command of English. In this respect, our School has been using English as the medium of instruction since its inception in 1969, and at present, only Chinese Language, Chinese History, Putonghua and Life Education are taught in Chinese.

The core of the administrative structure of our School comprises the Incorporated Management Committee, the School Development Team, subject panels and various functional committees. In addition, with the Students' Association, the Parent-Teacher Association and the Old Students' Association operating in full swing, the role of students, parents and alumni in the school development is thus enhanced.

Apart from fostering a balanced development of students and creating a reading culture among them, our School strives hard to promote the communication skills, higher-order thinking, creativity and active learning of students through numerous learning-to-learn activities and multifarious teaching strategies. In addition to the conventional tests and examinations, a continuous assessment scheme, which focuses on class performance, homework and projects, is adopted to ensure a more objective and formative assessment of student performance. Student achievements in public examinations are generally pleasing, maintaining high percentages of Level 5 or above rates and individual pass rate in different subjects. Hence, most of our graduates are admitted to degree programmes of local or overseas universities.

Moreover, different means are used to induce our students to internalize proper moral values. Different functional committees collaborate to help our students tackle difficulties in their school lives and get prepared for future challenges. Major school events are held recurrently to give students sufficient opportunities to polish those basic skills essential to their future growth. Extra-curricular activities are also well coordinated to provide ample opportunities for character building and potential realization of students. Altogether, there are 35 clubs and societies organizing regular activities to cultivate students' aesthetic, athletic and cultural interests. In addition, various training programmes are offered whereas students are encouraged to join the Hong Kong Award for Young People to gain a field experience in life-wide learning. We are glad that our students have been actively participating in different open competitions and have collected quite a number of prizes and awards.

To boost students' confidence and develop a school culture emphasizing self-improvement, we uphold a comprehensive award policy. Besides scholarships and prizes for students with remarkable academic attainments, those students excelling themselves in extra-curricular activities and showing exemplary behaviour will also be merited.

Guided by the motto of being "Competent, Conscientious, Studious and Creative", our concerted effort in nurturing students will help them not only explore the challenging world of learning but also develop crucial values the future leaders of our society should possess. We are committed to our task and always take pride in the achievements of our students.
